Course Overview

This course provides you with an introduction to Public Budgeting. You will not only learn how the public administrator or nonprofit executive can use budgeting as a financial and management accounting tool but as a leadership enabler in developing and deploying policy in the public or non-profit organization's work.

The course will also provide you familiarity with the process of public budgeting and with the terms that shape its language. You will learn about issues that affect the budgeting process, such as politics, political ideas and traditions, and policy analysis. You will also have the opportunity to explore public budgeting from the viewpoint of a local municipality as the ultimate intent of your instructors is to help you to formulate your own public budgeting beliefs, attitudes and process.

Course Outcomes

- Demonstrate knowledge of the core terms and concepts in public budgeting
- Apply course material concerning the major themes in public budgeting
- Demonstrate the ability to comprehend, analyze, and contextualize budget materials, including public and non-profit budgets, financial plans, and supporting material
- Apply course material to current fiscal affairs facing governments and non-profits
- Demonstrate an understanding of budget execution
- Prepare and communicate the contents of a public budget
- Explain how and why public budgeting is much more than the collecting and managing of numbers that represent how tax dollars will be collected, moneys borrowed, and spent.
- Explain how and why the budgeting process can be used a communication tool in connecting the elected with the populace.
- Explain how and why the public budgeting process can be a lever aligning problems, politics and solutions.
