Course Overview

Generative AI tools such as ChatGPT, Microsoft Copilot and other AI assistants are transforming how professionals write, research, plan, analyze and communicate. Organizations that adopt these tools responsibly can save time, improve quality and increase staff productivity.

This Magna Skills course provides practical, hands-on training on how to use Generative AI for everyday workplace tasks such as emails, reports, proposals, minutes, presentations, policy notes, summaries and research support.

The course is ideal for professionals who want to work faster and smarter without needing technical programming skills. Participants will learn how to write effective prompts, verify AI outputs, protect confidential data and use AI as a professional assistant.
